Marino Bile

SATAN

In this book, the author who is a psychologist and scholar of esotericism and mysticism, discovers that the work of the Forces of Evil – which have always been patronized by religious traditions throughout history – determines not only spiritual evil but also mental illness, and thus becomes part of psychic pathogenesis.

The book reveals the incredible ways in which demonic forces act and transmit themselves in the psychic and spiritual realms. The text also bears witness to some important dynamics concerning the workings of occult power groups and highlights previously unnoticed similarities between different religions in their descriptions and behavior of entities of darkness.

€ 29.50 - 292 pp.

Keywords: psychology, demonology, satanism

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

MARINO BILE is a psychologist and psychotherapist, a scholar of religions, esotericism and mystical paths. In 2022, he left the Order of Psychologists of Lazio – to which he had belonged for more than twenty years – to devote himself to writing.

ALIENS - TOWARDS CONTACT

On the 22nd July 2021, the Pentagon, in an official statement, did not provide reliable conclusions on UFOs and therefore did not rule out the existence of alien activity. In light of the latest concepts in modern physics, UFOs could be creatures from other planets or from a "parallel dimension". Drawing on current case studies, esoteric tradition and psychic research, this book focuses on the actions of alien intelligences towards us, which are aimed at subtly interacting with the evolution of our species, awaiting a predictable cosmic contact. Pinotti, after the success of UFO: Cosmic Contact (two editions), returns to discuss the UFO enigma.

€ 24.50 - 320 pp.

CARL GUSTAV JUNG

*The great shaman
A biography*

This essay comes from in-depth research and the author's friendship with Aniela Jaffé, a psychologist, analyst and close collaborator of Jung. A more up-to-date biography than Jung: His Life and Work by Barbara Hannah and Jung, a Biography by Gerhard Wehr, because it takes into account previously unpublished documents, letters and diaries that shed light on little-known aspects, or ones rarely mentioned for discretionary reasons, of the life of the Swiss master, whose discoveries in the field of the psyche are now part of the knowledge base of anyone who cares about their inner self and their own evolution.

COMPLETE GUIDE TO TAO YOGA MASSAGE

The author's meticulous style gets to the heart of the matter, to the essence of massage as a sacred dance, and as a communion between two people connected to the divine. The book is a reference manual for practice and personal growth. The typical maneuvers of Thai massage are applied to the detailed knowledge of the energy meridians of Chinese medicine and to the principles of Yoga. Furthermore, the integration of techniques from various disciplines—such as rehabilitation, osteopathy, and motor sciences—into the practice of Tao Yoga Massage makes it possible to perform maneuvers that promote mental and physical health.

FINDING THE COURAGE TO SAY NO

Without fear

Parents who become slaves to their children and vice versa; grandparents who, after a lifetime of waiting for retirement, find themselves caring for their grandchildren as they once did for their children; submissive partners who, after years of relationship, no longer even remember who they were before.

For all those who can't say no, living their lives freely is impossible, especially if their dominant nature has led them to care for others, giving up on themselves, their time, their projects and their dreams.

Since the author herself was unable to say no, she points out the way to: a love that will never hurt anyone again, a love as sacred and deep as the sea, a love capable of liberating.

"Step by step, I will guide you on that initiatory and psycho-spiritual path I have walked, to reach, together with you, the land of Yes and No, said without fear or guilt."

€ 13.50 - 124 pp.

WHEN THE OCEAN CLIMBED OVER THE ANDES

9526 B.C. The Great Flood

In 9526 BC, a 1.6 km iron asteroid plummeted from outer space onto Greenland, creating a 31 km crater and triggering a change in the Earth's rotation axis: it was the end of the world. The oceans left their beds and continued to rotate at 40,000 km per day around their old axes, sweeping away everyone and everything in their path. They crossed the highest mountains on earth: the universal flood.

Barbiero leads us on a journey to discover the numerous and evident traces of this cataclysm around the world, which corroborate the intriguing myth of a pre-flood civilisation.

WHEN THE ANCIENTS LOOKED AT THE STARS

In her latest book, the author invites readers to look at the stars through the eyes of a primitive man who projects himself into infinity and feels wonder and sacredness within himself; to join the ancient Greeks in observing the Gods and heroes who recount and reiterate the myths written about the starry vault; to wonder why it was so important to project the sky onto the earth and constantly observe it in order to catch the stars rising, the dancing constellations, the magical passing of time. The reader is then invited to lower its gaze, to shift its attention to the earth and identify the sacred places of all traditions, from Stone Age to the Middle Ages, where stone monuments manifest a link between the high and the low: Stonehenge, Callanish, Gavrinis, Borobudur, Angkor Wat, Egyptian temples and medieval cathedrals.

REBIRTH INTO LOVE

A journey to experience the loving relationship your soul has always desired

In a world dominated by separation, fear and conflict, love remains the deepest and most universal desire of every human being.

From the very first pages of the book, readers will sense that something within them is beginning to transform. Ellequain does not speak to the mind, but to the heart, inviting us to look within, to recognise what limits us and, step by step, to let it go to make room for a truer, freer, greater love. This is not just a book to read, but a journey to experience, made up of profound and concrete exercises that guide us to discover ourselves and our capacity to truly love.

THE AESTHETICS OF SANTA MUERTE

The roots of the macabre

The cult of Santa Muerte is a mixture of Catholicism, Aztec cults and magical elements of Santeria. Santa Muerte is the saint of the underprivileged, of those who risk their lives every day. She is democratic: she listens to and helps everyone without judgement. She is always depicted as a skeleton dressed in different colored clothes, holding a scythe and a globe. Santa Muerte originates from the religious iconography that the conquistadors brought to the New World. This book analyses the symbolic and iconographic roots of the saint who is now become a pop icon, starting from the frescoes of the 14th century to the rock/biker aesthetic, suggesting a reflection on the change in the imagery associated with death.

INTRODUCTION TO MICROKINESITHERAPY

A new and effective method for treating pain

Microkinesitherapy is a physiotherapy-medical technique for diagnosis and treatment developed in France by two experts in functional rehabilitation, Daniel Grosjean and Patrice Benini. It is painless and passive: the patient lies down and does not participate in the therapist's actions, who works by palpating the skin. This method is based on the existence of micro-movement in living tissues, which can be perceived by placing the hands on a structure, such as a muscle. Diseased tissues do not produce such micro-movement, so palpation allows to diagnose a dysfunction. It was later discovered that micro-movement could be restored by microkinesitherapists by placing their hands on the diseased tissue and keeping contact.

DO COLOURS BELONG TO EVERYONE?

The answers to our questions about colours

How many times does it happen to dwell on the most unusual aspects of colour? When in the kitchen we ask ourselves if the richness of the colours in our dish will be able to convey its flavour. Or when in a relationship we ask ourselves if some shades are more seductive than others. And who hasn't dreamt and wondered if the dream was in colour or black and white. And again: is it true that yellow is the colour of happiness? That new colours continue to be designed and patented? In this fascinating essay we find the answers to these and many other questions about the rich chromatic universe.

ENDING FEMALE PAIN

Relaxation, breathing, self-massage, yoga and meditation exercises

Vulvodynia is a gynecological disease characterized by chronic pain affecting the vulva and the tissues surrounding the entrance to the vagina. Despite being a widespread pathology (affecting approximately 12-15% of women), vulvodynia is often diagnosed late because it is underestimated and perceived as difficult to deal with. It is no coincidence that vulvodynia has long been classified as a "psychosomatic" or even a "psychogenic" disease. Its cause is still unknown, which means that at the moment, common therapies only focus on treating the symptoms or, as in the case of this manual, on natural and holistic approaches.

Moxibustion in 2010 was declared Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO. It consists in the application of heat concentrated in specific points of the body - the same used in acupuncture - located along the energy channels called «meridians». It is an oriental therapy that uses the heat from a moxa cigar and the properties of artemisia vulgaris of which it is composed. The moxa treatment warms up and invigorates the flow of energy in the body and disperses pathogenic influences. It is effective in case of chronic diseases, circulatory disorders, problems due to the cold and in case of yang energy deficiency. ## MASSAGE VISUAL BOOK

Holistic Maps

The base of holistic massage is the energy that flows in the body through channels connected to the universe to which it belongs. In addition to manual contact, the holistic operator can, if necessary, use aromas, oils, colours, stones, song, harmony, kindness to stimulate, dissipate or move the energy present in the body. The goal is always to restore balance, harmony and well-being of those who undergo the rite of massage. Themassages described are illustrated with coloured drawings and follow a clear succession: Ayurvedic, decontracting, draining, Sea Malay, postural, reflexological, relaxing, Thai, Californian.

BIOIDENTIC HORMONES

and low dose therapy in menopause

This text by Prof. Sponzilli is the first in Italy that presents BHRT, a natural hormone replacement therapy based on bioidentical hormones, which are substances obtained from natural, vegetable or animal matrixes, which undergo a process of galenic transformation. The molecules, being the same as those normally present in the female body, avoid the unwanted side effects that often occur with traditional medical therapies. The combination with nutraceuticals, phytotherapy and microdose therapies allow women to regain hormonal balance and respond effectively to premenopause and menopause treatment through modular and personalized therapies.

INTRODUCTION TO HOMEOPATHY

How to heal body, mind and spirit

The growing interest towards non conventional, alternative, complimentary and non official medicine is the symptom that our society requires a new relationship between doctors and patients. A new relationship that allows the patient to intervene in his healing process. Homeopathy is a more spiritual medicine, able to act on psyche and to go beyond the dichotomy body-mind. Based on the Hippocratic "law of similar", homeopathy can boast many experimentations and many successes.

Find calm, manage anxiety, anger, depression

Unlike dynamic yoga, this is a meditative practice that allows you to calm the mind, balance the nervous system and relax the body. It is a type of yoga that helps us release chronic stress by cultivating «the art of doing nothing». It is suitable for everyone, regardless of physical condition, and uses accessories such as blankets, soft cylindrical supports and small pillows to train the body and mind and lead them to a state of deep relaxation. Restorative yoga what it is and how to practice it with over thirty postures and forty sequences: the text by Audrey Favreau will give you the keys to find inner calm and better health.

INTRODUCTION TO KARMIC PSYCHOLOGY

Dynamics of affective relationships, feelings and destiny choices

Karmic psychology is not interested in the analysis of the ego and its mechanisms, nor the dynamics of the unconscious, it has the purpose to study the Soul, the great absentee of our present day age that increasingly asks to be (re)known, activated and brought into daily life. At the base of this book is Karmic therapy, which is not a new form of psychotherapy, but an approach addressed to people who are looking for the meaning of their life.

INTRODUCTION TO ASTROLOGY AND CYCLES OF LIFE

Our life is made up of stages, some more or less similar for everyone, others much more subjective, linked to particular experiences that have contributed to our development, which helped us go through and overcome an existential stage that no longer belonged to us. In astrological terms the former are linked to the planetary cycles, the latter to the trans-Jovian planetary transits in relation to our personal planets, and in particular to the Sun, the Moon and Venus. The book accompanies the reader – through the integration of various psychological theories on the cycle of life, anthropology and esoterism – to identify those phases of our lives which represent an actual shift to another dimension, to a sort of real initiatory path whose ultimate goal is to identify one's own Self.

INTRODUCTION TO FENG SHUI

The research of harmony and balance

One of the most ancient need of mankind is still topical today as it was five thousands years ago. Chinese wise men while observing nature and its laws in relation to men, stated that territory, house, ground that host human beings can be more or less propitious for their life, more or less suitable for their development, health and wellbeing. In this way they created Feng Shui: the science that studies harmony between man and territory.

MAGICAL SQUARES

Predicting, understanding events, knowing yourself

Numerology is the most rational of all divinatory doctrines. Methods for predicting the future can be based on immutable patterns and randomly chosen symbols, or on patterns that repeat themselves. As for the magical squares the first traces are found in the Texts of the Pyramids, magical funerary formulas present in pharaonic burials dating back to 2500 B.C. To use this divinatory system, we must rely on the symbolic link: the symbols are the numbers and the letters associated with them, which define models interpreted according to fixed rules.

In the jumble of shapes coming from the coffee dust everybody will be able to find, or at least to reach, the end of that tangled skein that is destiny.

TAROTS THE SECRET GOSPEL

The golden legend by Jacobus de Voragine tells that Magdalene, along with other Christians, was put on a ship and expelled from Palestine. She reached Marseille and – according to a popular tradition – lived as a hermit in a cave in Provence. The Major Arcana cards, whose historical roots are Provencal, would then preserve an initiation message relative to Mary Magdalene that this book, expertly written by Carlo Bozzelli, attempts to decipher analyzing with meticulous attention all the obvious and hidden details that are present in the various cards, starting with the World. This book gives a completely new outlook on tarots and reveals their mystery that has been jealously guarded and hidden for centuries

GOLDEN DAWN TAROTS

Tarot cards, according to Eliphas Lévi, are like a universal encyclopedia: browse them, question them and they will give you the answer. The magicians of the Golden Dawn used the Tarot to know something about the past, the present and the future. The Tarots were used in two both as a divinatory system and as a symbolic threshold. The book explains the meaning of the individual Tarot cards according to the teachings of the Golden Dawn; offers a series of divinatory practices, teaches the technique of clairvoyance through cards and describes the visions obtained by the magicians of the Order. The deck used is the Rider-Smith one, developed by Arthur Edward Waite.

This is known as the Mithraic Solar Way that occurred starting from the spiritual and philosophical reforms that emerged in the East and West between the 7th and 5th centuries B.C. This text differs widely from the texts published so far as it broadens the horizon of research on multiple aspects of Roman Mithraism not previously addressed. An essay that starts from the Indo-European prehistory, from the God Mithra of the Vedic religion and from the Iranian Mithras, focusing on the Greco-Roman Mithraic Mysteries.

Years of studies by philologists, literature and religion historians have shown that fairy tales are a complex universe, an anthropological and psychoanalytic laboratory of extraordinary interest in which issues related to linguistics, the origin and dissemination of myths, and narrative processes developed in the transition between orality and writing are intertwined. But a peculiarity of fairy tales concerns the presence of themes which are paradoxically unsuitable for children and with very violent facets in their plots: murder, rape, pedophilia, dismemberment, violent deaths, anthropophagy, etc. In this book, the reader will unveil hidden aspects which are very common in what is referred to as "children's literature".

TWO CENTURIES OF GHOSTS

What is behind ghost busters, haunted houses, exorcisms, zombies and ghosts that interests international filmography so much? Why, despite the tireless «unmasking» activity of a large group of antipsychists, do many still believe in spirits, in materializations, in the dead who return? The protagonists of this well-documented book, which reads like a compelling choral novel, are men and women who have tried, each in their own way, to force the doors of the supernatural. ## BIO-SOFICA® DIET

Feed your soul and your body

This diet is the result of the author's many years of expertise as a nutritionist, integrated with the basics of biology and social psychology. It is a nutritionist's long informal reflection, which invites readers to think differently about nutrition, reinterpreting a series of misleading myths and clichés which lead to psycho-physical damage. Practical information will allow everyone to become a nutritionist for themselves, considering individual characteristics.

EVEN ANIMALS GO TO HEAVEN

Stories of cats and dogs beyond death

This book will help people find their dog or cat friend who passed away and to keep talking to them and loving them. Pope Johann Paul II said that "in animals there is something very near to divine breath of life". In this book are collected the most beautiful and touching stories of animals beyond life on earth. Along with witnesses of famous authors like Allan Kardec, Rosemary Altea, Margherita Hack there are stories of daily love for animals written by common people. The most beautiful page ever written on animals, on their sensitiveness, cleverness and altruism are condensed in this book.

INTRODUCTION TO BACH FLOWERS FOR ANIMALS

Just like us, animals are immersed in a complex emotional universe: neurosciences tell us this and speak about animal welfare without considering the psychological aspect. For this reason Bach Flowers are an instrument of precious care for animals: dogs, cats, horses, but also for small mammals, reptiles and birds. A handbook to help the reader learn more about Bach Flowers, with many stories of animals that have found help using them, also integrated with other methods of treatment.

THE METAPHYSICS OF SEX

A comprehensive work on the metaphysical aspects of sexuality. Julius Evola sheds new light on the mystical and spiritual expression of sexual love. This in-depth study explores the sexual rites of sacred traditions, and shows how religion, mysticism, folklore, and mythology contain erotic forms in which the deep potentialities of human beings are recognized. The author was one of the foremost authorities on the world's esoteric traditions.

THE MYSTERY OF THE GRAIL

In this important study, one of the greatest esoteric philosophers discloses the pre-Christian and initiatic sources of this symbolic motif, so central to Western mythology and culture. He demonstrates how the main features of the legend are from an older tradition analogous to the heroic sagas of the North, and that the Grail itself is a symbol of initiation. Evola throws, in this excursion into the realm of the Grail, new light on an endlessly fascinating subject.

REVOLT AGAINST MODERN WORLD

In what many consider to be his masterwork, Evola contrasts the characteristics of the modern world with those of traditional societies, from politics and institutions to views on life and death. Written at the beginning of the Thirties, it marks for Evola the passage from philosophy and esotericism to a complex vision of the traditional world. "Revolt" is a unique work, that proposes a mythic-symbolic interpretation of the world's history.

RIDE THE TIGER

In this work, the famous Italian philosopher, deals with the issue of the various suitable behaviours of the prototype of a differentiated man in a period of dissolution. The Oriental saying "riding the tiger" means not to let one be swept away nor annihilated by what one cannot directly control. Thus this book can be considered a kind of "survival manual" for all those who consider themselves spiritually connected with the traditional world, but are obliged to live in the modern world.

THE CINNABAR PATH

Not an autobiographical work, but a “guide through my books,” dealing with ideas, rather than events and personal facts, and those traditional values that have characterized his entire life, it suits the definition of “spiritual autobiography.” The Cinnabar path has a fundamental importance and is crucial not only to understand the course of the thesis and the “vision of the world” that moved Evola, but especially to observe the common thread underlying all his works and positions.

THE DOCTRINE OF AWAKENING

In a probing analysis of the oldest Buddhist texts, Evola places the doctrine of liberation in its original context. The early teachings, he suggests, offer the foremost example of an active spirituality that is opposed to the more passive, modern forms of theistic religions. This sophisticated analysis of the theory and practice of Buddhist asceticism elucidates the central truths of the eightfold path and clears away the later accretions of Buddhist doctrine.

MASK AND FACE OF CONTEMPORARY SPIRITUALISM

Originally published in 1932, consolidating papers written during previous years, and then republished in 1949 and updated in 1971, this book still reveals an astonishing actuality. An illuminating manual to orient oneself in the chaotic “contemporary spiritualism” and to avoid its traps. In fact still today there are many circles interested in the so-called “super-sensual”, “occult” and exotic doctrines that at times can turn into contestable excesses.

THE HERMETIC TRADITION

This important survey of alchemical doctrines sets forth the mysterious worldview and teachings of the “royal art”. One of the leading exponents of this tradition, Evola demonstrates the singularity of subject matter that lies behind the words of all adepts in all ages, showing how alchemy – often misunderstood as primitive chemistry or a mere template for the Jungian process of “individuation” – is nothing less than a universal secret science of human and natural transformation.

PAGAN IMPERIALISM

This text was published in 1928, before the Lateran Treaty of 1929 between the Catholic Church and the Italian State. This pamphlet was intended to be a warning for Fascism against this event, which in the author's opinion, would have limited the imperial potential of the Mussolini regime. A work in which a close critique is made on a logical, political, philosophical and religious level of all those values, all those conditions, all those myths which, according to Evola, were hindering fascism and its will to renew the nation and the state, its desire to be «imperial».

MEDITATIONS OF THE PEAKS

New edition with an introductory essay by Luisa Bonesio

Evola's predilection for spiritual heights had a concrete and practical counterpart: in the 1920s and 1930s, the traditionalist philosopher practiced the most daring mountaineering which in the world of culture links him to figures such as Aleister Crowley and Dino Buzzati. He wrote about these experiences in specialist publications and in the general press, not only masterfully transfiguring them in the light of myth and symbolism, but also linking them to everyday life.

In this famous collection of futurist, symbolist and dadaist poems the dominant topic of the compositions is the internal drama present in almost all early European artists of the Twentieth century. Evola observed that "the fundamental theme was that of existential darkness." The young poet sensed the lability of existence and recognized in abstract art the possibility of overcoming reality to achieve a superior state of being.

WADORYU KARATE DO KUMITE

Wadoryu is a type of karate which was founded by Otsuka Hironori Sensei (1892-1982), pupil of the legendary Gichin Funakoshi. Kumite is one of the three elements - along with kihon and kata - of karate. De Luca's book is the first text in Italy on the historical and didactic elements of kumite. This guide is very easy to consult and it is divided into two parts: the first is theoretical-historical, the second is photographic and illustrates the technical peculiarities of the exercises in pairs incorporated into the overall system of Wadoryu style karate in order to mentally and physically prepare athletes to a hypothetical fight.

KEEP CALM AND CLIMB

A manual on climbing tactics and techniques

Most of the tips and advice described in the book are inspired by the fact that in crag climbing, the biggest barrier to overcome is not constituted by one's athletic ability, but rather by psychological factors. The author, with over twenty years of experience, tries to break down this barrier, to improve personal skills and improve performance. As climbing is a sport in which different situations can occur, this book outlines the technical problems which can occur and tactics which can be used when one encounters an obstacle during the ascent on a cliff.
